

I would like you to reject the NAB's petition 04-160.
The petition is anticompetitive, and attempts to restrict new technology availability and applications. We, the people, do not want our choices restricted.

Satellite broadcasting of international, national, and local content is a well established practice, (e.g. DirectTV) and we all benefit from that application of technology. Radio is the same as TV as far as we are concerned, and satellite broadcasting of radio should have the same international, national, and local content capability.

I subscribe to XM radio and enjoy the benefits of the local traffic and weather. I would like to see more services such as this. Please establish standards, rules, and regulations that allow and encourage this.

Thank you,
Bill Mosley
